Dear mithR,

You are among the unsung heroes of professional Counter-Strike - but we all know your worth. You've had a long career, as both a player and a coach. From Tricked, to aTTaX, to North, then Renegades, and finally mousesports. You bring deep experience and knowledge to the team and your relationship with dexter strengthens the important bond between coach and IGL.

It doesn't stop with game plans. Your confidence and desire flows into the roster each match. When things look grim you're the hand on their shoulder. When things look good you celebrate just as hard as them. We know you have their back and you have our trust. Afterall, you and dexter somehow managed to make Mouz play Overpass, giving the team seven maps to work with and dumpster the enemy team on!

This ain't your first rodeo, you know the intensity of a Major, and how to strengthen the mental resolve of the players who do not yet know the weight of the crown. Full focus, maximum attack, and rush B, or split it, you're the coach.
